As organizations face an increasingly complex risk landscape, directors and officers' roles have been scrutinized. Join us for an insightful session on Directors & Officers Liability Insurance brought to you by the CPCU Global Virtual Committee, where industry experts decode the coverages, claim trends, legal frameworks, and evolving expectations around corporate governance. This session is ideal for professionals working in insurance, compliance, risk management, legal, and those in insurtech roles who support corporate insurance programs. As a consultant, or claims professional, this session will enhance your understanding of how D&O insurance safeguards corporate leadership — and what that means in today's regulatory and litigation-heavy
